CHAPTER I
INTRODUCTION

1.1. Background of the study

Literature is a permanent expression in the words of some thoughts or feelings or idea about life and the world (Res 9). In other opinions states that literature is a creative activity, or work of art (Wellek and Warren 7). From the definitions above, the writer concludes that literature is literary work of human who wants to express their feelings, ideas or thoughts in words and acts.

One of the type of literary works is prose. Prose refer is simply to any written piece of work that is built on sentence and paragraphs. Prose has two types: the first type is fiction prose and the second type is the non fiction prose (Edgar and Jacobs 2).

The first type is non fictions. Non fiction prose is literary work which describes or interprets about the facts, present judgments, and opinions (Abrams 106). In other word states that non fiction prose is content in the form of the story whose creator in reality of writing (Terry 72). It includes: essays, newspaper, encyclopedia, biography, and magazines.

The second type is fiction prose. According to Abrams, in Glossary of Literary Terms, he said that a fictional prose is any literary narrative, whether in prose or verse, which is invented instead of being an account of events that actually happened. In addition, a fiction prose is made based on the author’s creations and imaginations (Terry 77). For example: novel, short story, romance, and parable.

The novel is one of the fictions prose. According to Wolfeys, he said that the novel contains a piece of prose fictions which are assumable longest. In other opinions states that the novel is an imaginary object that include, myth, symbol and convention to satisfy all time and place (Bluestones 31).

The novel is an imaginative prose narrative of some length, usually concerned with human experience and social behavior and normally cast in the form of a connected story (Webster 687). A novel stated novel because novel has been a long story that is written by the author. From the explanations above, the writer concludes that the novel is a fiction of prose, which has long stories who is written by the author. The author can be free for writing their imaginations, their feelings or their thoughts.

In addition, in studying a text novel. The readers would know several aspects that built a novel. They are intrinsic and extrinsic elements. The intrinsic element is the elements which develop the literary work from inside such as: plot, character and characterizations, and the moral value. All of this makes a story come to life. The intrinsic element is important to analysis the novel because intrinsic element is the soul of the novel (John 86). So that's why intrinsic elements are important for analysis, because unsure intrinsic element is more complex in analysis of the novel.

Jodi Picoult is the bestselling author of 22 novels presently, she has many literary works, such works as: Song of the Humpback Whale (1992), Harvesting
Keeping Faith (1999), Plain Truth (2000), Salem Falls (2001), Perfect Match
The Tenth Circle (2006), Nineteen Minutes (2007), Change of the Heart (2008), Handle with Care (2009), House Rules (2010), Sing You Home (2012), The Story
Teller (2013), and the last is Leaving Time (2014). (www.elspringer.com).

Jodi Picoult was born on 19 May, 1966, New York. When she was young, she had ambitions to be a writer. She got designations A.B for the creative writing from Princeton University and Masters from Harvard University. In 2003 Jodi

13 novels and most of them talked about family, privacy, and love.

At present Jodi Picoult had created a hugely successful career writing high octane dramas about families ravaged by event straight off the CNN ticker. Date rape, school shooting, the sexual abuse of children and teen suicide (http://www/jodipicoult.com/jodipicoult).

Among all of Jodi Picoult works, the writer prefers to choose My Sister’s Keeper novel. There are some reasons that writer has. The first reason, because My Sister’s Keeper has a background of the family story. This novel teaches how to be a good parent, a good sister and good daughter and good life. Besides that, this novel is talking about the struggle family to survive their daughter. The second reason, because this novel has a story of many sides of all characters.
There are five characters: daughter, parents, sister and lawyer. They have been the center point, and every characters shows different side’s people to react to the same problems, or especially how to know and understand about families who stand leukemia on Kate. The last reason, because My Sister’s Keeper novel is the real evidence ability for surviving life in the top a big tragedy, where is in this novel insight about the patient, emotions, good responsibility, and knows the meaning of decision in life.

Anna was born by a tube process. She is the one who has a specific genetic with Kate’s body. Kate is Anna’s sister who has leukemia ill. Anna gives everything that she has gives for save Kate, like donor her bone marrow, and her bloods to make Kate healthy. But at that time, Kate has fail kidneys, Kate need of Anna’s kidney to keep her life. The major character of this novel is attractive, they to be a good character in this novel, like Anna, Sara, Brian and Campbell. They have a same problem, but actually they have same purpose to save Kate alive. The conflict of this story appears when Sara asks to Anna that she must donor her kidney to keep Kate’s life. Anna was refused that, she makes her parents so shock because Anna claimed her mother in the court for getting her medical emancipation of her body.
