CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background of the Study

As the writer know that literature is an activity of imagination, creative, and refined. Literature can be read, comfort, and appresiation. According to De Bonald, literature is an expression of society. To illustrate the phenomenon of literature, we have to know the condition of economic, social, and politic that become the factor of the history. Actually, literature reflect and express the life (Wellek and Warren 7).

Literary works consists of fiction and nonfiction. Fiction means that the literary works are related to the imagination and the invention of the author. Fiction works is a literary work that the story is unreal. Whereas nonfiction is a literary work that related to the real condition. Nonfiction is written form that are related to data and factual. It is not related to the imagination of the author. It consists of announcement, speech text, reports, journals, biography, scientific articles, etc. (Gutkind 8).

Based on Eagleton, Literature has a very close relation with human life. It reflects what really happen in the real life. So it is no doubt to find out various kinds of problem taking place in our daily life and the emotional sense on individual in literary works. Literary texts are assumed to be ideological in the sense that they cannot give us a knowledge of the social formation; but they do give us something of equal importance in analyzing culture, an imaginary representation of real relations. There are many authors who cover their conditional surroundings into their works. Thus there must be found a very close relation between one literary work and the era when it is made (Eagleton and Milne 329).

The writer has known that literature is a part of the human life that reflects the reality in what happened in each aspect of life. Literature represents the life which deals with internal and external factors of human life. It will be interesting to criticize it, because the writer will get a lot of knowledge by this criticism. To criticize literary works, the writer need some understandings about literary criticism. Peck and Coyle define that Literary criticism is the analysis, interpretation and evaluation of literary works. It does not mean that literary criticism is to find the fault in literary works. Analyzing literature means analyzing human life as experiences, ideas, motivations, emotions or expectations which are expressed in the words (Peck and Coyle 150).

Literary work is an author’s creative thinking. The author writes the literary based on what they feels, sees, and the experiences in real life. Literature is the represents of life (social reality). Even though the natural world and subjective world of the individual have also been the objects of the literary “imitation” (Wellek and Waren 94). In other way, literature is one of the subject which deals with inner and outer factors of human life which are described through author’s imagination. The author creates the literary work not only using the skill and creation ability, but also based on the vision, inspiration and struggle.
There are many literary works that tell about a struggle. One of the literary work that tell about struggle is Memoirs Of A Geisha written by Arthur Golden. Arthur Golden was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee, America. Many people believe that he was born in 1952. In 1980 when he was in University of Colombia, he wrote a novel about the life of Geisha. The idea appeared after he talked over with a businessman in Tokyo. Five years later he produced 800 pages about Geisha in Tokyo with a background of world war II. (Aulia 36-37)

One day she meet with the Chairman in a tea house and declare her love to him. Finally, she get the Chairman’s love and leave the Okkiya with the Chairman. Based on the story, the novel tells about human existence that is revealed by Chiyo. We can see the human existence when Chiyo fight against her life suffered. She tried to become a Geisha and beat a Geisha that envious to her.

6. Making conclusion based on the result of data analysis.
1.7 Organization of the Study

There are four chapters to present the study. The first chapter is introduction. Introduction is divided into eight points. Those are background of the study, statement of the problem, objective of the study, scope and limitation, significance of the study, method of the study, organization of the study, and definition of the Key Term.

The second chapter is theoretical framework. Theory that is used in this research and previous study are included in theoretical framework.

The third chapter is analysis the data. The analysis data explain about the problem that will be discussed in the research. It will show and answer the research problem and it will become the material of the conclusion of this research.
