CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter consists of conclusion and suggestion as the last part after analyzing and interpreting the data in the previous chapter. The conclusion is drawn based on the formulated research question while suggestion is to give information for the next researchers who are interested in doing research in similar field on semantic analysis.

4.1 Conclusion

The researcher can classify the meaning of words and sentences in Surah Al-Mudatstsir using semantic approach which include lexical meaning and sentential meaning.

Lexical meaning is concerned with the meaning of words and the meaning relationship among the words. In this surah kinds of lexical meaning can be found are synonymy, antonymy and ambiguity. The verses categorized into sentential meaning in Surah Al-Mudatstsir those are verse 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 17, 23, 24, 25, 26, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 36, 37, 42, 43, 46, 49, 51, 53, 54, dan 56.

Sentential meaning is defined as a group of words that forms a statement, command, exclamation or question, and usually contains a subject and predicates, and writing starts with capital letter and end with full stop, question mark and exclamation mark (., !, ?). The verses are categorized into sentential meaning in Surah
Al-Mudatstsir mostly in every section such as verse 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, dan 56 those including entailment.

Then, message that is conveyed to the readers in this surah can be categorized mostly into religious message. The grand message of this surah is that Allah will give punishment to people who challenge the prophet Muhammad SAW and people who do not trust of Al-Qur'an because everyone must be responsible to what they are doing in this world.

4.2 Suggestion

Based on the findings of this study, the researcher suggests the further researcher who wants to conduct similar theme of study with more complete data and discussion because this research is still rare and away from the complete and perfect. So, the researcher recommends to the next researcher no to limit the discussion just as the previous researcher did before, but explore the analysis about semantic deeply.
