CHAPTER I
INTRODUCTION

This chapter focuses on the area of the study that involves (1) background of the study (2) Research question (3) objective of the study (4) scope and limitation (5) significance of the study, and (6) definition of key terms.

A. Background of Study

There are four skills that must be improved by English students especially by the candidate of English teacher, in which they are called listening, reading, speaking and writing. However, as English teacher we also aware that writing skill is the most important and needs to be separated and special attention because writing is considered as the most difficult and the biggest challenge for many students.\(^1\) Moreover writing skill also is considered as the skill that has close relationship with higher education.\(^2\)

The reasons of writing as the most important skill that should be learned by students are; firstly, because writing has been considered as the most difficult and the biggest challenge for many students. It happens because obviously writing needs long process or much time, needs deep thought, expression, and understanding to create many interesting ideas. Furthermore, for foreign language learners, the biggest challenge in writing well is the students have to master the aspects of writing e.g. spelling, capitalization, punctuation, vocabulary, and grammar or sentence structure.

Secondly, writing skill also is considered as the skill that has close relationship with higher education. As we probably know that most exams, whether they are testing foreign language abilities or other skills, often rely on students’ writing proficiency in order to measure their knowledge. It seems that writing well is needed in getting good value in facing exams specially for college students because by students’ writing the teacher or the lecturer can measure the students’ understanding about the knowledge that they get during learning process in the past. Moreover, as we probably know that every student in college must complete the final task in the last semester by producing a thesis. Fundamentally, writing cannot be separated from education system or the teaching learning process.

Essay writing is the best way for students in learning process and to increase their ability in writing. The best reasons are because in writing essay students are forced to express their feeling, thought, idea, and opinion or argument about their subject that they got in the class in writing form confidently and by essay writing the lecturer can know how well the students mastered their subject or material from their lecturer. Like Greetham states that essay writing is a valuable opportunity for learning because essay writing can force you to organise your thinking and develop your ideas on the issues and by students essay, you will know clearly how well you understood the subject, how well you communicate the subject that you get and you can know where your strengths and weakness are. It can be concluded that writing an essay can help the teacher or the lecturers and the students in teaching and learning process especially in writing class to know how well the students understanding in studying and to increase the students’ ability in writing.

There are some kinds of text or written form that will be gotten by students during learn to write especially learn to write essay in every college. They are narrative, descriptive, explanation, recount, exposition, and argumentation or essay. In this study, the researcher refers to argumentative essay as a subject to research because argumentative essay is an essay that make the authors to force themselves to think critically and to pour great ideas or opinion in order to persuade the reader and make the readers to change their belief. It means that by writing argumentative essay the students will practice to communicate or convey what they think confidently because in writing argumentative essay the students are required to write by collecting some important information, generating, and evaluate evidence, then establish a position on the topic in a concise manner.

The second reason of the researcher to choose the argumentative essay as a subject to research is because every college student is required to produce a thesis in the final of semester. As we probably know that in making thesis, students have to choose interesting problems in the field to be a good research and to produce good thesis students need strong evidences to courage their statements in their research. It means that by practicing to write argumentative essay, it will help the students in making thesis in the final of semester because argumentative essay is an essay that force the students to get good arguments with strong evidence in order to persuade the reader.

This researcher conducted this research at the State Islamic University (SIU) of Sunan Ampel Surabaya. The researcher chooses this university because this university has English Teacher Education Department and in the English teacher education department there is argumentative essay class. Therefore the researcher chooses this class to conduct this research.

The reason of the researcher chooses the argumentative essay class are because the researcher found the problems that the students got in writing argumentative essay. The researcher done interview about the difficulties in writing argumentative essay that is held on Thursday, 27 April, 2015 in State Islamic University of Sunan Ampel Surabaya and some students said that they feel difficult in arranging and emplaced the thesis statement correctly. As we probably know that there are aspects of writing that should be noticed by students in writing. Probably by interviewing, the researcher found that the students feel difficult in arranging and emplace the thesis statement, but the researcher still doesn’t know whether the students master all of the aspects of writing or not. Therefore, the researcher conducts this research to know what aspects of writing that students master and what aspects of writing that students don’t master.

The second reason of the researcher to choose the argumentative essay class is because there is previous study that related with this study, but the previous study focused on the cohesion and the coherence of the students’ essay. The previous study was conducted at University of Bengkulu and the study was descriptive research that used quantitative approach to analyze the data. The previous study was conducted to know the students’ ability in writing argumentative essay and the researcher of the previous study found that the students have difficulties in cohesion and coherence, while by preliminary
