CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

In the beginning of chapter, there are some points discussed. This chapter consists of background of the study, research questions, objectives of the study, significance of the study, scope and limit of the study, and the last is definition of key terms. Each part will be discussed in this chapter.

A. Research Background

Teaching is main duty for teacher. To establish effective teaching, the teacher requires abilities in teaching. According to Straker, there are three abilities that should be mastered by teacher in teaching and learning process. They are classroom management, teaching skill and subject knowledge. The teachers should pay attention the activities that are going to be conducted, the material, tools to teach, knowledge, and also the students’ background knowledge. Before teaching, teachers prepare lesson plan about what teacher will do in the classroom and understand the students’ ability level in mastering English to make them more passionate to learn the lesson. Therefore, the teachers who have these abilities are called professional teacher.

As the vision to have professional, innovative and notable teachers, English Teacher Education Department (ETED) conducts Practice Teaching (PPL). PPL is divided into two parts, they are practice teaching (PPL I) and internship program (PPL II). The students of practice teaching are called student teachers. PPL I is the pre-program of PPL II which gave students some real of English teaching learning. It gives student teachers an opportunity to experiment in teaching before getting into the real classroom. It also provides experiences to teach in the small group among their own friend which the time provided is only 20 minutes. Moreover, PPL II is the following step which requires student teachers to teach the real students at the real formal school. It is commonly called as real classroom teaching. For taking PPL II, students should pass PPL I. Thus, PPL I becomes the background experience for the student teachers in teaching learning process. Based on it, this study is focused on PPL I.

In practice teaching, student teachers need to have classroom management ability to overcome the problems which is happened in classroom. So, in case students do not understand how to do a particular activity, teachers have to modify his/her instruction into simpler sentence. They may use gesture or directly translate the instruction into L1. Regina also states, the effectiveness of classroom management depends on the teachers’ roles. Based on Harmer, teacher has some roles, such as controller, organizer, assessor, prompter, participant, resource, tutor, and observer. All roles are aimed to facilitate the students’ progress in learning.

One of the important roles is teacher as organizer who has authority to organize students to do various activities. It involves giving the students information, telling them how they are going to do the activity to do the activities, putting them in pairs or group. If teachers do not give their instruction clearly, it will impact on the organization of the classroom and students may not get full advantages from an activity. Therefore, teachers should plan the instruction that will be taught to the student based on the subject matter, student, community and the goal of curriculum.

Teachers’ instruction is the way teachers talk to students, the manner in which they interact is crucial to both successful learning and teaching. Instruction is small part of teaching but it has the significant influence in teaching learning process. For instance, if the instruction is not explained clearly, students will not understand what they are supposed to do and the activity will be wasted. That is the point in education process that contains all the steps through which interaction between the teacher and the students take place. Similar argumentation shows that instruction is the process of ensuring that classroom lessons run smoothly despite of disruptive behavior by students.\textsuperscript{8} The term also refers to the prevention of disruptive behavior of students.

Delivering instruction is the crucial thing for the students who are receiving their teachers’ message. Without clear instructions, students may become confused, bored, may lose confidence, lose attention in lesson’s activities and spending more time for telling and checking their understanding.\textsuperscript{9} Those problems can obstruct students’ classroom activities. Its circumstances might be the result of ineffectiveness instructions, specifically in terms of clear, understandable and concise. The quality of instructions that delivered by the teachers will impact directly on the students learning activities. To give information to the students, the teacher has to give the clear and understandable instructions in order that the students are not confused to do the activities. Hence, the understanding of students based on the teacher.

Effective instruction decides the effectiveness of teachers teaching quality and students learning. It is significant for teachers to know whether or not their instructions are effective since instructions have always been the first thing to be given by teachers in order to get students to start doing their parts.\textsuperscript{10} It means that different teachers have different ways of instinctively giving instruction. Teachers’ ways or skills of giving the instructions need to be emphasized in order for them to get the students to pay attention, understand and most importantly, demonstrate their understanding on the teachers’ instructions. If the teachers deliver the instruction incomplete, as a result, not only the next activities will be complicated but the other following material will also be complicated.

Observation and interview were conducted for preliminary research in practice teaching class to show the condition and situation of class. Eight from twelve student teachers still faced problem in giving instruction. The common problem is delivering information in every stage orderly. Four from twelve student teachers used Bahasa Indonesia in their instruction to make it easily. They are still unaware how important of their instruction to the students’ learning. Based on the reason above, giving instruction becomes the focus of the study, since instruction becomes significant in learning process. Then, the student teachers are the main subject of this study who has many mistakes in giving instruction during teaching learning process.

Related with this research, there are some related previous studies that discussed about teachers’ instruction. It is included the skill and technique. For instance, the study that conducted by Ni’matul Illuyun under the title “Teacher’s Instructions Elements in English Outdoor Class at MA Bilingual Krian”.\textsuperscript{11} Her study examines the English teacher’s instructions elements applied in activities especially in students’ working English outdoor class and the problems faced by English teacher in delivering the instructions in English outdoor class. The other previous study conducted by Zulaikha entitled “Students’ Perception on The Effectiveness of Teachers’ Instruction in ESL Classroom”\textsuperscript{12} focused on the effectiveness and ineffectiveness of teachers’ instruction that is based on the students’ respond during the classroom activities. Based on the previous research, most of the past researches were discussing about the effectiveness of teachers’ instruction in the classroom. Therefore, by choosing practice teaching as a subject and analyzing the prose in giving instruction will be different with the previous study. This study focuses on how the way student teachers give instruction in the right step. It provides some problems that occur in delivering instruction to the students at practice teaching class.

From the reason above, as student teachers, they should concern on their performance in delivering lessons and they were always wondering whether the students could understand the instructions or not during teaching practical. In other word, student teachers’ ability in giving instruction need to be emphasized in order to get students pay attention and understand on teachers’ instruction within practice teaching (PPL I). Hopefully, the result of this study will have contribution for the student teachers in internship program to know how well their ability in giving instruction during teaching learning process.
