The conclusion is drawn from the finding and discussion that had been analyzed by the writer. This chapter also included suggestion related to the study.

5.1 Conclusion

As the conclusion of this study is that the affixation process becomes one of the productive ways in forming English words. The base to which affixes are attached can be originated from English and other language. Those affixes can derive new words with various kinds of part of speech and meaning. This will enrich the language source for English language users.

The result of this study shows that affixes are used in One Direction’s songs. There are two kinds of affix is used. They are suffix and prefix. There is no infix is used. Kinds of suffix which are used, they are: -ing, -ion, -er, -ly, -or, -ce, -ize, -ness, and -ous. While, prefixes which are used: dis-, un-, ir-, im-, pre-, mis-, in- a-, and un-. The mostly used of affix is suffix, it is the suffix -ing.
5.2 Suggestion

From the conclusion above, the writer recommends some suggestions.

The following suggestions are:

1. For the students

The writer suggests that the students should learn derivational affixes because from this affixes can change the part of speech and also create a new meaning that can improve their vocabulary.

2. For the teachers or lecturers

The writer suggests the teachers or lecturers to apply the derivational affixes by separating the roots and the affixes clearly to the students in mastering vocabulary. This research can be used as their reference to teach vocabulary.

3. For further researchers

The researcher suggests the other researchers to develop this research with different data source and better technique.
